The Martiloge in Englysshe after the use of the Church of Salisbury, & as it is redde in Syon, with addicyons.
Unto the devoute reders, Rychard Whytford preest and professed broder of Syon, in our Lorde God and moost swete Savyour Jesu salutacyon.

Any devoute persones, specyally religyous, whan they done sende forthe werkes of theyr owne makynge, theyr owne gaderynge, or translacyon, done use customably to reteyne (of mekenes) theyr names : whiche thynge I do not discomende, but rather do I prayse them therin : notwithstandynge I beseche you good devout reders, take none occasyon in me, though I do contrary, that is to saye, though I (knowyng that my poore labour and doynge in suche thynges, is no thynge worthy prayse : I also that myne own conscyence doth not requyre ony maner thanke prayse, or other temporall or worldly rewarde but onely doth desyre the spirytuall profyte of the reders or herers) though I saye, do set forthe my name unto every thynge that I sende forth, not (as I sayd for ambicion, our Lorde unto wytnes) but rather to expowne and offre my selfe unto just correccyon : wher unto I do in moost humble maner submyt my selfe. And also an other cause why I do so set forth my name, is that I have herde of dyverse werkes that be founde in prynt as faderles childer without auctours, that ben not onely the lesse regarded bycause they ben without auctours, but also ben suspected, as not holdyng & kepyng the ryght path of Christianite. I wold therfore none other person shold be reproved ne blamed for my dede, but rather that I shold my selfe (as the commune proverbe sayth) drynke suche as I brue. Trustynge therfore in your charite, that ye wyll ascrybe applye, & take all thynge unto the best, we have sent forth this martiloge, whiche we dyd translate out of Latyn in to Englysshe, for the edificacyon of certayn religyous persones unlernen, that dayly dyd rede the same martiloge in Latyn, not understadynge what they redde. And the addicyons for theyr more edificacyon, we gadered out of the sanctiloge, legendaurea, catalogo sanctorum, the cronycles of Antonine, & of saynt Vincent, & other dyvers auctours. I beseech you of your Christyan favour & charitable prayer, I shall humbly beseech our Lorde that all you, accordynge unto the very purpose & effecte of our mynde may profyte in the redyng hereof. Valete.

Our Lord God & moost swete Savyour Jesu sende us all his mercy & grace. Amen.
